

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CONGRATULATIONS to Petar Todorovic on being named one of Northwest Indiana's top "20 Under 40."

Valparaiso, IN – 9/28/2021 – When Petar Todorovic looks for role models, he goes right to his parents, Vesna and Vlasto Todorovic, who came to this country from Serbia in 1998. “They gave up their whole life for my brother and me,” said Todorovic, who admitted he did not realize his parents’ struggles until later.

One lesson he learned from his parents is to never give up. At age 29 Petar is president of sage-popovich, inc., a global aviation consulting and asset management provider, from pre-purchase inspection and appraisal services through repossession and liquidation on all aircraft types and related inventory. Todorovic has been with the company for seven years, originally hired as an intern coming from Purdue University. He became its president this past March, following founder Nick Popovich, who remains its chairman.

Popovich has also been a source of counsel for the young president, teaching him “there is always a solution to problems. Our clients call us when times are good and when they need us.” Todorovic added, “Nick’s knowledge is priceless. The guidance he offers, you can’t put a value on it.” Popovich is a 2017 inductee to the Living Legends of Aviation.

Todorovic measures success by the “impact you have on others. You can have all the awards and money in the world, but if you’re not having a lasting impact, then there’s no point to doing it. It’s more about legacy, and hopefully a positive one. I want to make the world a little better than how I found it.”
