

Sage-Popovich Announces Expansion at Gary/Chicago International Airport for FAA Part 149 Repair Station

Gary, Indiana – Sage-Popovich, Inc. is pleased to announce another significant expansion of its operations at the Gary/Chicago International Airport. The company is currently adding a second hangar to house TOGS, its FAA Part 145 Repair Station.

This expansion is a direct result of increased client demand and the company's ongoing commitment to serving the aviation community in Northwest Indiana. The additional footprint will allow Sage-Popovich to enhance its support capabilities for various aviation assets and provide more comprehensive maintenance services. This growth is evidence of the trust and partnership we share with our clients, and expanding our operations allows us to better support our surrounding aviation community and their assets.

Sage-Popovich, Inc. extends its gratitude to Executive Director Daniel Vicari and the Gary/Chicago International Airport Board of Directors for their continued partnership and support in this new chapter of growth.
